

Price Controls
Restored; OPA
Ready With 142
Orders; May Be
Special Session

Washington, July 26 (AP)—Rolling into action under whittled down authority, OPA today granted immediate increases over June 30 price ceilings on coal, shoes and many lesser items.

In the first use of pricing powers in 26 days, the agency also stripped controls from a number of consumer items, including several types of clocks and household television receiving sets.

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, July 26 (AP)—Price and rent controls are back in effect. And OPA is out today to make up lost time.

Stripped of many of its powers under the revival bill which President Truman "reluctantly" signed into law late yesterday, the agency nevertheless made ready to issue 142 pricing orders as it rolled back into business.

But none of these orders, due today, could touch any of these major items: Meat, dairy products, eggs, poultry, grains, tobacco and petroleum. The new law exempts these commodities from price ceilings at least until after August 20.

Meanwhile, as the war-born agency came back to life after 25 days of legal death, there were these developments:

1. Mr. Truman, in a message to Congress last night explaining why he had signed the revival measure "with reluctance," cautioned that it "by no means guaranteed that inflation can be avoided." Hence, he added, if it does fall in that respect he will call a special session to strengthen it and possibly hike taxes.

2. Congressional leaders quickly said they saw no prospect whatever of boosting tax rates. And Senator Wherry (R-Nebr.), a leading OPA critic, added to a reporter that any special session might result instead in complete abolition of the agency.

NAM Raps Revival

3. President Robert R. Wason of the National Association of Manufacturers said in a statement in New York "NAM still opposes OPA because it restricts the freedom of the American people and substitutes the price judgments of a few super-bureaucrats for the judgments of forty million American housewives who have given us a four-week demonstration of their own ability to control prices."

Wason added that "manufacturing industry of course can be counted on to keep its prices as low as wages and other costs permit."

4. The CIO United Auto Workers announced in Detroit they will continue their OPA-holiday buyers' strike because, as UAW President Walter P. Reuther put it in a statement: "This bill only pretends to restore price control. Actually it legalizes inflation on many commodities."

Signed Reluctantly
5. In Chicago, The American Meat Institute declared that Mr. Truman's signing of the bill "threatens to renew chaos in the meat industry just as consumers are beginning to enjoy more meat."

Most of the orders OPA stacked up for issuance today were ready for announcement when the agency's authority lapsed July 1. One permits an eight per cent shoe price increase, for example, while the majority of the others affect industrial equipment and materials.

Some of the regulations direct the elimination of ceilings on a wide variety of items.

In every case, they are based on previous OPA pricing standards. The new law sets up new guides for higher ceilings but gives OPA 30 to 60 days to put these in effect.

The bill Mr. Truman signed—and which he said fell "far short" of what is needed for stable prices—restores temporarily all ceilings which were in effect June 30 except those on commodities specifically exempted.

Raps Clothing Costs

It also automatically re-establishes previous rent controls in 520 areas. OPA's eviction notice requirements, too, went back into effect. And the agency announced that the restoration of Federal controls nullified all state and local rent laws placed in effect since June 30.

Mr. Truman singled out for special (Please Turn to Page 5)

Troop 76 To Make
Scrap Paper Drive

The regular salvage drive will be conducted by the Boy Scouts of Gettysburg Saturday afternoon starting at 1 o'clock, officials announced today.

Troop 76, newly organized Church Lutheran troop, will be in charge of the affair. The scouts will meet at the fire engine house on East Middle street at 1 o'clock and then will proceed with trucks over all streets of town to pick up scrap paper placed on the sidewalks by residents of the community.

C. C. CULP IS NEW HEAD OF CHILD WELFARE

Charles C. Culp, Gettysburg, was elected as the new chairman of the advisory committee of the Adams county Child Welfare services at the group's annual picnic-meeting Wednesday evening at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. A. W. Geigley, near Fairfield.

He succeeds the Rev. Dr. Dwight P. Putman, who has been chairman of the committee since its formation six years ago. Doctor Putman declined to continue as chairman.

Advisory committee members whose terms expired and who were re-elected for another term at Wednesday's meeting include: Mr. Culp, Mrs. George F. Eberhart, both of Gettysburg; Dale Roth of York Springs, and Mrs. Charles Yost, Biglerville. Mrs. Mark K. Eckert's term also expired but she declined re-election. Her position will be filled at the September meeting.

Other Officers
The elections followed presentation of the report of the nominating committee by its chairman, Lewis Bosserman.

After the committee positions had been filled, these officers were named: chairman, Mr. Culp; vice chairman, the Rev. Mr. Geigley; secretary, Mrs. Henry T. Bream, and treasurer, Mr. Bosserman.

The committee discussed plans for launching a public relations program in the fall with the purpose of interpreting to the public the problems and services of the child welfare organization.

Attending the affair in addition to members of the committee and their families were Mrs. Elizabeth Grieb, Child Welfare secretary; Miss Mary Frances Parham, visitor in training who started her duties here July 1; and Miss Leone Pinkbner, office secretary.

Mrs. Eberhart, Mrs. Bream and Mrs. Henrietta Blocher were the committee in charge of arrangements for the picnic.

LAUD POLICE SET-UP HERE

Less than a month since it was established, Gettysburg's new police headquarters on the second floor of the Murphy building has won commendation from another police department because of its arrangement and record-filing methods.

Officers of the police detective bureau, York, on a visit to Gettysburg Wednesday, inspected the police offices and were loud in their praises for the efficient filing methods established by Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster.

They praised also the arrangement of finger-printing and photographing equipment and other office appurtenances, and told Chief Harpster they intended sending other members of the York police here to see what had been accomplished in Gettysburg.

The new officers were opened July 9, after the borough council had authorized their rental on a trial basis for the balance of the year. The officers were formerly occupied by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, who moved his quarters across the hall in the same building.

Says Rep. May Cannot Be Quizzed For Week At Least

By ALEX. H. SINGLETON
Washington, July 26 (AP)—Rep. May (D-Ky.) failed to show up today to testify on his wartime intervention on behalf of a munitions combine, and his attorney said the 71-year-old legislator is ill and would be unable to appear for at least a week.

Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) of the Senate War Investigating committee went through the formal motions of inquiry whether the Kentucky legislator was "in the room" ready to take the stand. He did this even though he was informed 14 hours earlier that May had suffered a heart attack on the eve of his scheduled appearance.

At the request of Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) the committee placed in its records files from the labor department pertaining to Murray Garsson, one of the promoters of the munitions combine to which May's name had been linked by previous testimony.

Garsson was formerly an investigator for the department, and committee records showed that he was removed by Secretary Perkins.

The files were not immediately made available to the press, but Mead said they showed that Garsson had once been "on very friendly terms with Al Capone and visited him alone in the jail out there (Chicago.)"

To Review Plans For Welcome Home

There will be a meeting of the Veterans' Homecoming committee planning the county-wide Welcome Home for war veterans here on August 14, the first anniversary of V-J Day, in the law library at the court house next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock.

Judge W. C. Sheely, the general chairman, will preside at the meeting at which all committee chairmen will present reports on their preparations for the all-day celebration.

POLICE PRESS HUNT FOR GIRL IN THEFT CASE

State and local police today continued the search for Jean Cohone, 23-year-old Charlottesville, Va., woman whom they wish to question as a material witness in connection with the alleged theft of a wrist watch in Chambersburg Thursday morning by two negroes, Herbert J. Greene, and Wesley G. Smith, also of Charlottesville.

State police said the woman, who was traveling with the two men when they were nabbed here early Thursday morning by borough police, had no apparent criminal record. Word received from Charlottesville disclosed nothing against her there, the police said.

Charges Filled
Chambersburg police have filed a warrant for her arrest for questioning in connection with the theft but police said that as far as could be determined in preliminary questioning she was not aware that the watch was stolen by the two men.

Chambersburg police, who removed the two negroes to that city Thursday, are charging them with taking a wrist watch owned by a World War II veteran from a Chambersburg service station.

The vet, James A. Gettins, took off his watch while washing his hands at a gas station. He walked out of the rest room forgetting the watch and the two negroes entered, he told Chambersburg police. After they left, Gettins went to the wash room and found the watch gone. When Gettinsburg police stopped the two negroes and the white woman here Thursday morning the watch was found behind the front seat of their vehicle.

INDIAN BISHOP TO SPEAK HERE

Bishop Shot K. Mondol, the second Indian to be elected to the episcopacy of the Methodist church in India, and now on a speaking tour of churches across the United States, will be the guest-speaker at the Methodist church here on Friday evening August 2, at 7:30 o'clock. Bishop Mondol has recently arrived from India, representing in America the College of Bishops of India.

Bishop Mondol was born in Murshidabad, Bengal Province, the son of the late Rev. A. K. Mondol, a well-known minister of the Methodist church. He was educated at Collins institute, Calcutta; St. Paul's college, and the Scottish church college, both in Calcutta; and was ordained a minister of the Methodist church and joined the Bengal annual conference. He served as a member of that conference as pastor, superintendent, principal of Collins institute and conference secretary of Sunday school work, during the next 20 years. In 1941 he was elected a bishop of the church by the lay and ministerial delegates of India and Burma.

Bishop Mondol has been a frequent visitor in America, and has spoken in various parts of America, in Europe, Burma, and in China. Four times he visited the United States as a delegate from the Bengal Conference to the General Conference of the Methodist church. He has served as president of the Bengal Christian Council (interdenominational), and has been a chaplain of the Railway English church in Asansol.

Bishop Mondol has episcopal supervision of the Hyderabad area of the Methodist church, including the Central Provinces, the Hyderabad, and the South India Annual Conferences.

APPLE, TOMATO GROWERS HERE URGED TO SPRAY

Adams county's apple and tomato growers were warned today in letters from County Agent M. T. Hartman that special sprays are needed to combat disease and insect conditions that are prevalent.

A special insect and disease letter was sent to the apple growers by County Agent Hartman in consultation with J. O. Pepper, extension entomologist, and L. O. Weaver, extension plant pathologist, urging sprays to control second generation codling moth and to prevent late scab, Brook's spot and sooty fungus.

To the tomato growers went a letter pointing out that favorable weather conditions have enabled potato-tomato late blight to become established in many tomato fields. The late blight is present on the leaves and on the green and ripening fruit and the fruit clusters in some fields are a complete loss, the letter pointed out.

Wet, cool weather, heavy dew and humid days keep the fungus alive and active, Hartman asserted. "The situation is serious and requires protection by spraying or dusting. The fungus attacks leaves, fruit and occasionally stems. The leaves have irregular water-soaked areas which turn dark and become dry. In moist weather or in shady areas, a white downy growth may be seen on the diseased area. On fruit at first there is a brown discoloration under the skin. The spots enlarge, turn dark and have a greasy appearance. The rot spreads into the flesh of the tomato. Ripe and green fruit are affected at all stages of development," he added.

To combat the tomato disease Hartman urged good coverage and pointed out that only the sprays or dusts can give protection and prevent the spread of the blight.

Suggests Materials
With the prevalence of late blight it will be necessary to provide protection with a spray or dust at ten-day intervals, he said.

Bride-To-Be

Miss Jeanne Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert B. Keller, of Culver, Indiana, whose engagement to Clarence W. Epley, Jr., was recently announced. The wedding will take place August 24 in the Memorial Library at Culver Military Academy where Mr. Epley graduated prior to the war. He was recently discharged from the army after more than five years service.

HELD FOR COURT IN ASSAULT CASE

Harry E. McClell, Fairfield R. 1, arrested Wednesday on a warrant charging him with assault and battery, on complaint of Georgia V. Brady, 151 West High street, was held for court on this charge following a hearing before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder Thursday night. He was released in $300 bail.

The complainant charged that on the night of July 20 while she was going through an alley between High and Middle streets to a fire on Springs avenue she was accosted by McClell, whom she knew, and that he took a ring from her finger. She broke away from him, she testified, and returned to her home. Later, she said, he brought the ring back to her.

About 11 p. m. the same night while she was walking on South Washington street, McClell again accosted her, she said, and wanted to talk with her. She said she tried to ignore him, but that he twisted and bruised her wrists and arms.

McClell said in his testimony that he grabbed her to keep her from hitting him, after she had slapped him once.

Two Drivers Ignore Same Stop Sign

A ten-day notice will be mailed by Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore to James P. Tully, Biglerville R. 2, on a charge of driving through a stop sign at Baltimore street and Steinwehr avenue early today. The charge was placed by borough police.

A similar notice will be mailed, police said, by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, to William H. Horner, Gettysburg R. 1, for going through the same stop sign early today.

A ten-day notice will be mailed by Squire Basehore to Raymond A. Fleckinger, 255 Chambersburg street, on a charge, preferred by borough police, of failing to give the proper signal when pulling away from the curb. Fleckinger struck another automobile, according to the report.

College Grad Named Camp Hill Principal

Donald Enders, Camp Hill, navy veteran and former physical education teacher, was appointed principal of Camp Hill high school at a meeting of the borough school board Thursday night.

Enders, who will receive his master's degree in administration at New York university next month, succeeds Fred Bower. Bower resigned to engage in business.

The new principal is a graduate of Lykens high school and Gettysburg college. He is a former Lykens and Camp Hill high football, baseball and basketball coach and was president of the Upper Dauphin County Scholastic league for five consecutive years.

CHAIRMEN AND AIDES TO HELP ENROLL VOTERS

To spur voters to register for the coming November elections the Adams county Democratic committee has appointed area chairmen and co-chairmen to help swell the registered voters' roster.

"It is the responsibility of the workers," a committeeman said, "to appeal to those who are not registered and therefore cannot vote, and to bring to them a consciousness of their responsibility to their families and themselves. It is the voters who decide the form of government we will have in Harrisburg and in Washington. The only way any citizen can have a voice in that choice, is through the ballot."

Potential voters can register now at the county court house, every week day from nine in the morning to four in the afternoon; on Saturdays from nine in the morning to noon. Later, the County Commissioners will designate special registration days on which registrars will sit at designated places in various parts of the county.

Chairmen And Aides

Area chairmen are Ralph E. Rohrbach, Hanover, R. D.; Carl W. Kane, Biglerville; J. Roy Diehl, Biglerville; Luther Plank, Table Rock; Raymond Becker, 336 3rd street, Hanover; D. B. Dougherty, Gettysburg; J. Harry Sinner, East Berlin; Walter Kugler, Fairfield, R. D.; Maurice C. Wareham, Littlestown; M. R. Freed, New Oxford; H. R. Kennedy, York Springs, R. D.; Seb H. Weaver, McSherrystown; Regina Miller, Gettysburg, R. D.; Robert P. Deatrick, Gettysburg, R. D.

Area co-chairmen are O. G. Griffin, Abbottstown; Clyde Allison, Arendtsville; Russell Weaver, Biglerville, R. D.; Charles Cashman, New Oxford, R. D.; Mrs. Anna Thomas, 331 3rd street, Hanover; Maude V. Baker, Gettysburg, R. D.; Paul Chronister, Hampton; Alton McClell, Fairfield; Marie Crouse, Littlestown; J. D. Clapsaddle, Gettysburg, R. ## Countian Is Taking Conservation Course

Carl C. Slaybaugh is among the thirty-five public school teachers of the state enrolled in the Pennsylvania conservation laboratory for teachers now in session at the Pennsylvania State college.

Like the first group that completed the course a week ago, the present enrollees will study conservation of forests, minerals, wildlife, and soils. Much of their time will be spent in actual visits to nearby forests, mines, games reserves, fisheries, and farms.

The course, first of its kind in Pennsylvania, was established through the efforts of 15 organizations in the state to promote the conservation of natural resources. The course ends on August 10.

22 German War Leaders Are Accused Of 12 Million Deaths

Nuernberg, Germany, July 26 (AP)—Justice Robert H. Jackson demanded on behalf of the United States today that all the 22 Nazi leaders on trial on war crimes charges before the international military tribunal be convicted as "conspirators" to wage aggressive war.

Opening the prosecution's summation for the Allied nations against Herman Goering and his 21 co-defendants after eight months of testimony and debate, Jackson declared:

"Adolf Hitler's acts are his acts. His guilt is the guilt of the whole dock and every man in it."

Jackson was followed by the chief British prosecutor, Sir Hartley W. Shawcross, who declared the prisoners were guilty of "12,000,000 murders."

He declared they participated in and directed "the cold, calculated, deliberate attempt to destroy nations and races, to disintegrate the traditions, the institutions and the very existence of free and ancient states through murder conducted like some mass production industry in the gas chambers and the ovens" of death camps.

For the first time in several months, there hardly was an empty seat in the courtroom.

Countian Sued By U.S. For Loss Of Stored Wheat

Seranton, Pa., July 26 (AP)—The U. S. government is suing Park Gardner, Huntington township, Adams county, for $1,515.10 damages plus interest and costs.

A civil suit was filed yesterday in federal court against Gardner, operator of a warehouse at Mount Holly Springs, Cumberland county, by U. S. Attorney Frederick V. Follmer.

The complaint said that in June, 1942, the community credit corporation stored 6,975 bushels of wheat valued at $9,821.02 in Gardner's warehouse. Four months later the warehouse and its contents were destroyed by fire.

The damages sought represent the amount of loss not covered by insurance.

SIX CHARGES FILED AGAINST EARL L. MILLER

Earl Leon Miller, 18, Gettysburg R. 1, will face six charges, borough police said today, when he is arraigned before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore, as the result of eluding the police on the night of July 19 when they sought to stop him for questioning here.

Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster said today that Miller was sought by Maryland authorities on a larceny of an automobile charge. When borough police here attempted to stop him a week ago tonight, he turned off the lights of his automobile and succeeded in getting away from them, Harpster said.

Pays Maryland Fine

He was arrested here Friday night on a warrant, which charges him not only with turning off his lights, but with driving too fast for road conditions and with driving through four stop signs, according to police. Miller, the police said, was arrested subsequently near Taneytown, and paid a fine to Maryland authorities on a charge of operating an automobile without the consent of the owner.

He was committed to Adams county jail after his arrest here Friday night. No time has been set for his hearing.

AME Zion Church To Observe Anniversary

The African Methodist Episcopal Zion church of American will hold nation-wide services Sunday in observance of the 150th anniversary of its founding.

The Rev. R. M. Everette, pastor of St. Paul's A. M. E. Zion church, will tell of the history of the church at the service Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. James Varriack and Peter Williams founded the church in New York city in 1796. The main celebration of the anniversary will be held in September.

FAMILY REUNION

The thirty-second annual meeting of the Brame-Brehm-Bream reunion will be held at Willow Mills park, Cumberland county, Saturday, August 17. The Rev. Ira F. Brame, Carlisle, is president of the family organization; Calvin Murtorf, Gardners R. D., vice president, and Mrs. Mervin Bream, Gettysburg, corresponding secretary.

SUSPICION SEEN CHIEF OBSTACLE TO ATOM ACCORD

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

When one takes the trouble to study the U. S. proposal for atomic energy control, which has been bluntly rejected by Soviet Delegate Gromyko with one of his famous "noes," it appears likely that the portion to which Russia objects most would offer one of the best guarantees of world peace yet developed. This is the provision for an international atomic development authority which would have absolute power over atomic raw materials and production and would be endowed with the right of investigation into every nook and cranny of any country. In order that there be no interference with this unprecedented power, America proposed that the right of veto—now held by the big five nations—be abolished for all matters relating to atomic energy.

The World Knows
Of course the American proposal means surrender of that degree of sovereignty necessary to permit such a development authority to carry out its investigations. But the whole concept of our new U. N. peace organization is based on the giving up of some measure of sovereignty for the general good, and it's hard to see how an investigating commission could impinge on the rights of any nation which had nothing to conceal.

Now the whole world knows Russia is an ardent advocate of peace. So her unwillingness to surrender a wee bit of sovereignty isn't impelled by warlike ideas. However, an outstanding characteristic of present day Russia is an intense desire to shield herself from prying eyes. This applies not only to Russia proper but to those countries under Moscow's control.

One reason for this secretiveness would seem to lie in the fact that the Soviet government is very, very young. It was born out of bloody revolution less than a generation ago, and for long was maintained in the face of enemies at home and abroad who persistently tried to pull it down.

It's natural for the Soviet to be suspicious. There are other elements entering into the story, but suspicion is one of the main difficulties. Moscow's proposition would put the whole system of atomic control under the United Nations Security Council and the United Nations set-up. It would retain the power of veto.

The U. S. contingent expresses confidence that it can sell its own program to the other nations.

But what if Uncle Sam can't sell his bill of goods? Well, there's always chance of a compromise, although at this writing the American delegation is standing pat on all fundamental points of its plan. After all, it's in position to stand pat—even to refuse to compromise, for that matter—because America has the atomic bomb and its secrets.

PICKS TON OF CHERRIES IN DAY

Hood River, Ore., July 26 (AP)—The pickin'est migrant worker in the west—maybe in the world—drew his paycheck today and headed for California and another harvest.

Henry Wooten, one-time Kentuckian, heard the other day that nobody ever picked a ton of cherries in a day. So he picked a ton.

It took him 12 hours to strip 2,188 pounds off the trees in the Webster orchards. It gave him the record; also $75.84.

"He's about the best man we've ever had," said Roy Webster with magnificent understatement. "In six consecutive days last week he earned an average of $56 a day at 3 1/2 cents a pound."

Pickers generally average $8 to $14 a day.

Last year Wooten averaged 1,000 pounds of cherries a day for 13 consecutive days, Webster said. Wooten, 32, has been following the fruit harvesters from California to Canada for 10 years. He says he once studied for the ministry, and fellow-pickers say he's a college graduate.

Wooten is no one-crop specialist. He sets records wherever he goes. Last year at Chelan, Wash., he picked 360 boxes of apples in one day, setting a new mark. The county agent's office here said it heard he held the record for picking peaches in California.

Between seasons he works, too—pounding out stories for the pulp magazines.

Drivers Charged On Traffic Counts

Curtis Dries Jackson, Baltimore, paid a fine and costs Tuesday before Justice of the Peace Harry C. Nail, Hanover, on a charge of reckless driving, laid by a member of the Gettysburg sub-station of the state police.

A charge of failing to stop at a stop sign was placed against Emanuel Mandell, Pittsburgh, Thursday, before Justice Gerald Orndorff, New Oxford R. D., by a local state policeman. A ten-day notice will be sent.

BEAUTICIANS ORGANIZE HERE

Amy Marsden, a partner of the Nellie's beauty shop, was elected president of the Beauticians of Gettysburg at an organization meeting held Tuesday evening in the Guy Mickley beauty shop.

Twelve local establishments were represented at the meeting at which the association was formed with the main purpose of the organization announced as to help in keeping all beauticians in the borough aware of all new methods as they are developed.

Charles Milne, hair style and permanent wave technician of Baltimore, spoke at the session on new waves and equipment which will soon be available.

Mrs. Gladys V. Rebert, owner of the LaVina beauty shop, was named secretary. At a meeting to be held August 6 the group plans to name a vice president and treasurer.

The beauty shops represented were Nellie's, Vivian's, Springs Avenue, Beauty Box, Beatrice's, Model, Ann Miller, Mary Wolfe Slenitz, LaVina, Ann's, Chritzman's and Guy Mickley's.

Masonic Camp Opens Again; First Since '41

Twenty-five members are attending the annual sessions of the Good Samaritan Hunting and Fishing club being held this week at the camp in Mt. Joy township along Rock creek near its junction with Marsh creek.

The week-long session, which ends Sunday marks the resumption of camping activities that were halted by the war in 1941. In 1942 only a week-end camp was held and since that time no formal camp was held until the present year. The club started its activities about 50 years ago.

Attorney John P. Butt is in charge of the commissary for the week. Dangerfield Mitchell is chef with Raymond Williams assistant. Henry T. Bream is president of the organization.

4 NEGROES SLAIN BY WHITE MOB

Monroe, Ga., July 26 (AP)—Sheriff E. S. Gordon said today that a band of armed white men ambushed and shot to death four negroes near the Walton-Oconee county line in northeast Georgia late yesterday.

The sheriff said the four—two men and their wives—were taken from Loy Harrison, Oconee county farmer, and slain with shotguns and pistols. Their bodies were found near the Line Fort bridge, completely riddled with bullets.

Harrison was reported to have testified at a coroner's jury hearing Thursday night but details of his statement were not immediately available.

Sheriff Gordon identified the victims as Roger Malcolm and his wife and George Butler and his wife. He said Malcolm had been released from the Walton county jail under $600 bond only a few hours previously on charges of stabbing his former employer, Barney Hester.

Hester, he continued, still is under treatment at a hospital here. The mob was composed of between 20 and 30 men, the sheriff reported.

Sheriff Gordon said Harrison reported he was held at gun point while the two men were shot to death.

38 TAXPAYERS

grades one through eight in the town schools, but would have divided older and younger pupils in the same families between the two schools, and would have required a bus shuttle service between the schools, according to Dr. Robert A. Bream, assistant county superintendent of schools.

A bus driver from East Berlin had been contacted to do the hauling, but no transportation would have been provided for high school pupils, Dr. Bream said.

It was against this plan that the taxpayers met in protest Thursday night, he added. He said the three-teacher plan provides that pupils in grades one through six be transferred to Green Springs, where three rooms, with two grades in each room, would be operated. All pupils above the sixth grade would go to New Oxford, one bus serving all the pupils.

Slight Increase In Cost
The net cost to the district under the three-teacher plan would be very little more, Dr. Bream said, unless more pupils attend high school, in which case the tuition bill would be higher. It is not anticipated, he said that the tax rate will be increased.

George Meckley was elected to preside over Thursday night's meeting and he explained its purpose and called upon Dr. Bream to outline the proposed plans of reorganization after which various taxpayers spoke.

Among the speakers were John W. Lucabaugh and John H. Winand, school board members and Harry C. Brinton, president of the board, G. Howard Danner, teacher, resident and taxpayer of the town, Clair B. Spangler, and others. Charles Auchey, who recently resigned from the school board in protest against the policy contemplated by its members, was also present and participated in the discussion.

The meeting nominated for presentation to the school board Clair D. Spangler as member of the board to succeed Mr. Auchey. The vacancy will be filled by vote of the other board members. Mr. Spangler expressed his willingness to serve on the school board should he be elected.

Two Couples Will Mark Anniversaries
Two twenty-fifth wedding anniversaries are scheduled for celebration by countians over the week-end.

Dr. and Mrs. Luther Gotwald will celebrate their anniversary Saturday at Cooperstown, N. Y., with members of the family who will gather for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bushman, Arendtsville, are planning a quiet celebration of their anniversary on Sunday.

Doctor and Mrs. Gotwald went to Cooperstown 25 years ago on their wedding trip and decided to hold the anniversary celebration there this year. After their wedding trip they went to India and have been missionaries to that country ever since, returning to the United States on occasion for visits with Mrs. Gotwald's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Will F. Bare here and other relations in this country. They returned June 10 from India after spending the war years there. Doctor Gotwald is attending the Silver Bay, N. Y., missionary conference.

TEXAS PRIMARY
Dallas, Texas, July 26 (AP)—Texas' heated first Democratic primary campaign, with an even dozen candidates in the race for Governor, will reach a climax tomorrow when a predicted 1,400,000 citizens will cast their votes.

The Senatorial race heads the long ballot, with Sen. Tom Connally, chairman of the foreign relations committee, considered an easy winner over four minor opponents.

CORRECTION
William Carey served as best man at the wedding of Miss Gladys Lucille Warner of Chambersburg and Dale L. Woodward, Orrtanna R. 2, instead of William Craley as was stated in the original account of the ceremony.

NOW IN GERMANY
Word has been received that Pvt. Lawrence D. Huff, Jr., Littlestown R. 1, has arrived at a camp near Fussen, Germany. He receives his mail in care of the postmaster at New York city.

Rev. and Mrs. Paul Lantz and family spent Monday in Lancaster and Ephrata.

Safety Code For Soft Coal Mines
Washington, July 26 (AP)—A uniform safety code for government-operated soft coal mines was announced today by Secretary of Interior Krug. It is effective at 12:01 a. m. (local time) next Monday.

Such a code was demanded by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine workers, as a condition to resumption of work after the government seized the mines last May 22.

It will remain in effect, Krug announced, as long as the mines are operated by the government under the strike settlement agreement he made with Lewis covering wages and working conditions. More than 4,500 mines are covered.

The code sets up more than 300 separate safety standards covering such matters as timbering, blasting, explosives, ventilation, coal dust hazards, protective clothing, and many other phases of coal mining.

It directs, for instance, that all mines must be examined for gas at least once a day within four hours before workers enter the mine.

APPLE, TOMATO

of bluestone and three pounds of spray grade hydrated lime in 100 gallons was recommended as a spray which will stick to the fruit better than a fixed copper spray of two pounds actual copper in 100 gallons of spray which can also be used.

Or a dust of seven per cent actual copper without any lime, applied when the plants are wet with dew, may be used to combat the disease, Hartman said.

In regard to apples, Mr. Hartman urged for those growers who can wash their fruit or intend to sell to some concern that can wash, the use of a Bordeaux 1-4-100 spray of one pound of bluestone and four pounds of spray grade hydrated lime in 100 gallons of water and 3 pounds of lead arsenate. The Bordeaux may russet the fruit of Golden Delicious, Gano, Grimes, Jonathan or Ben Davis, he pointed out. On these he recommended a Bordeaux 1/2-2-100.

Scab Plentiful
For those growers who cannot wash and intend to sell their crop as fresh fruit he recommended a spray of two pounds of fixed nicotine and two quarts of summer oil to 100 gallons of water. At least two sprays at 10-day intervals are needed.

The apple growers were urged to spray immediately as second generation codling moth is about to enter the fruit. One test to determine the need of the spray consists in checking apples on the ground under a tree. If five or more wormy apples can be found there will be a lot of second generation codling moth, Hartman said.

Apple scab is plentiful on foliage, he added, and where fruit will be harvested the spray is needed to prevent storage scab and sooty blotch on the apples. He warned growers not to apply any sprays when the temperature is above 95 degrees in the shade and warned that the spray is not to be applied to summer varieties of apples.

450 Jeeps Go On Sale For Veterans
Capt. Max S. Christol, property disposal officer, Letterkenny Ordnance depot, announced today the War Assets Administration had advised him that a sale of 450 jeeps at the depot will start July 29 and continue for a week.

The officer indicated that the inspection and selling of the jeeps would take place between the hours of 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily throughout the sale which will be held in Parking Lot No. 1 on Route 333.

The sale is open to veterans from Area No. 3 who have preference certificates dated from July, 1945, to December, 1945. According to Captain Christol, the eligible veterans, some of whom are from this vicinity, have been notified of the sale. If any vehicles are not sold the WAA will notify the veterans whose preference date is after December, 1945.

New Soil Districts Are Formed Upstate
Harrisburg, July 26 (AP)—Two additional counties—Clarion and Clinton—have been established as soil conservation districts under the 1945 law, the state Soil Conservation commission announced today.

They were set up through adoption of a suitable resolution by the board of County Commissioners in each county.

Miles Horst, state Agriculture secretary and chairman of the commission, said Clarion county for a number of years was organized under the Soil Conservation act of 1937. It becomes the first of the six counties or parts of counties established under that act to accept the new legislation which, Horst explained, provides for home rule, organization and operation on a voluntary basis.

Other soil conservation districts already in operation include, Potter, Fulton, Allegheny, Jefferson, Clarion and Clinton counties.

Four teams, battling to remain in the running for championship play-off spots in the Community Softball league, scored important victories Thursday evening.

On the high school field the Elks walloped the American Legion in the opener 13-1. The Legion started the game with but six players and finished with but eight to make it easy for the lodgemen. In the seventh inning Jake Dracha got a freak homerun when his drive to left field took a big bounce and went over the fence. The bases were loaded at the time. The Legion left fielder is believed to have set a league record with 10 putouts.

The Varsity Barbers snapped their two-game losing streak at the expense of the W. E. Aires in the nightcap 7-2. The Barbers scored a pair of runs in the first, fourth and sixth frames and a single run in the third. The Aires runs came in the top half of the sixth. Timbers and Gorman composed the winning battery while H. Tawney and McClellan formed the losing battery.

The Moose went into a tie with the Aires for sixth place by defeating the Ice and Storage 7-2 in the first game on the college field.

In the second game at college the Highway halted the Marketers 8-2.

Eastern League

(By The Associated Press)

The Elmira Pioneers, driving hard for a spot in the Eastern League playoffs, were within a half-game of the top four teams today on the crest of an eight-game winning streak.

Elmira Pitcher Ernie Bickhaus threw the third successive two-hitter at the Hartford Chiefs last night, the Pioneers winning 2-1.

The Wilkes-Barre Barons clung to fourth place by six percentage points after being held to a split by the Utica Blue Sox. The Barons won the opener, 3-0, and the Blue Sox, the second game, 9-3.

The Scranton Miners continued their runaway race for the pennant, trouncing the tallend Binghamton Triplets twice, 4-0 and 8-7, while the Albany Senators smothered the Williamsport Grays, 13-1.

MIDGET DRIVER KILLED IN RACE

Philadelphia, July 26 (AP)—Attempting to zoom by a driver in a 15-lap midget auto race at the Yellow Jacket speedway last night, Harry (Tom) Collins of Norristown, Pa., was killed after his machine locked wheels with another racer and crashed into a fence.

Collins, 29, was attempting to pass Carl Miller of Trenton, N. J., in the eighth lap of the race, but he got too close. A wheel of Collins' car tangled with one of Miller's. Miller eventually won the race.

Collins was wedged into his car. He suffered a broke neck and fractured skull. Witnesses said death was instantaneous.

Johnny Ritter of Chicago, who broke the eight-lap track record in a preliminary go also won a 15-lap race in record time. He sped around the quarter-mile oval in 2:43.41 for eight laps to better the 2:45.27 time established by Dee Toran of Los Angeles.

PACT NEAR IN BASEBALL WAR

New York, July 26 (AP)—Peace between the Mexican baseball league and the major circuits in this country is forecast in at least one quarter today, although clubowners and officials on the United States side denied knowledge of plans for a truce.

In a copyrighted article, the Minneapolis Star said a peace agreement between the American and National leagues and the Pasquel brothers of Mexico would be announced "in the next 30 to 60 days."

Written by sports editor Charles Johnson, who credited his information to a source "that has always been reliable," the article said the agreement might mean the return of players who left the major leagues to play in Mexico.

"Details of the arrangement were worked out by Sam Breadon, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, and the Pasquel brothers, wealthy sponsors of the Mexican league, when Breadon visited Mexico City a few weeks ago," the article said, declaring that "the deal will eliminate any further raids by the Mexican baseball magnates."

In St. Louis, however, Breadon declared he knew nothing about such an agreement.

Tough Course For All American Play

Chicago, July 26 (AP)—A disgruntled crowd of golfing hot-shots start second round play in the $50,875 All American tournament today fully aware that the famed Tan O'Shanter course isn't the same tailor-made strip they breezed around in former years.

Herman Barron, veteran campaigner from White Plains, N. Y., begins the second 18 holes with a first round, 68, 4 strokes under par, two strokes better than his closest rival and 6 under favorite Byron Nelson, Toledo, the defending champion.

Nelson, fuming over his starting 74, and most of the others blamed their poor showing over the 6,760-yard tournament course to "hard greens and strategically hidden pins."

"The fellow who placed pins on the back of six of the greens does not play golf for a living," Nelson declared.

Storm Hits Match Golfing At Denver

Denver, July 26 (AP)—The National Public Links tournament, colored by spectacular upsets and one danger-filled storm that swept Wellshire's rugged municipal course entered the semi-finals today with Louisville, Detroit, Los Angeles and Portland golfers still standing.

Lightning ripped the layout yesterday, striking a tree and burning one gallery, and sheets of rain fell but through it all came Smiley "Quikety" Quick, of Los Angeles, to a 7 and 5 victory over Peter Mazur, Jr., former Buffalo, N. Y., steelworker.

The storm stopped but shallow lakes covered the Wellshire fairways. Robert E. Gajda, of Detroit, Mich.; William E. Doll, of Louisville, Ky., and Louis Stafford, of Portland, Ore., followed Quick into the semi-finals.

DODGERS GAIN HALF GAME AS CARDS DIVIDE

By JOE REICHLER

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
For the first time in the memory of the modern day baseball fan, followers of the Brooklyn Dodgers today actually were singing the praises of the New York Giants.

For if it hadn't been for those same Giants, the Dodgers might not be perched at the top of the National league today.

The Dodgers whipped the Chicago Cubs 4-1 for the second straight time yesterday, while the Giants divided two games with the St. Louis Cardinals, gained the series two games to one and enabled the Brooks to build up a game and a half head over Eddie Dyer's pestiferous challengers.

After handsome Howie Pollet, the willowy lefthander from New Orleans, had gained his 12th mound victory for the Cards with a nine-hit 2-1 triumph, the Giants threw their southpaw freshman ace, Monte Kennedy, against the Birds, and the 21-year-old North Carolinian clipped the Cardinals' wings with three hits as the Giants won 6-1.

Phillies Split
The clearing of the entire Pittsburgh Pirates bench except for the regular lineup by umpire George Magerkurth highlighted the twin bill between the Bucs and Philadelphia Phillies. Magerkurth's action came after the Pirates booted a third called strike on Chuck Workman.

The Pirates, behind the seven-hit pitching of Johnny Lanning, won the opener, 2-1, but the Phils came back to rip Truett Sewell apart 9-2 in the nightcap.

In the American League, Boston's pace-setting Red Sox dropped a 3-1 verdict to the Chicago White Sox which cut their lead over the idle New York Yankees to 11 games.

The Washington Senators tanned Detroit's Tigers 8-3 in the rubber game of their three-game set, Cleveland's Indians outslugging the Philadelphia Athletics 9-8.

The Yankees and St. Louis Browns had an off day.

Inter State League

(By The Associated Press)

Sunbury's Yankees were in undisputed possession of third place in the interstate league today following their split of a doubleheader with Harrisburg last night while Hagerstown was losing to Allentown.

Sunbury dropped the opener to the Senators, 2-0, but copped the finale, 5 to 3, to move a half-game ahead of Hagerstown.

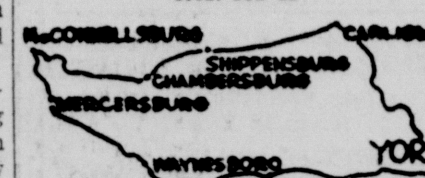

Allentown edged the Owls, 1-0, to strengthen its hold on first place. Lancaster walloped Trenton 18 to 6, while York pummeled league-leading Wilmington, 11 to 4.

The first graphic demonstration of sound wave was made in 1857.

Sports Roundup

By SID FEDER
(Pinch-hitting for Hugh Fullerton, Jr.)

New York, July 26 (AP)—The way New Jersey racing business is booming on the Garden State-Monmouth-Atlantic City axis has New York track operators biling their fingernails. . . . The word is they've definitely decided this is Saratoga's last year unless the SPA iron men sing a fancier jive than in the past. . . . And with the Jersey parks concentrating on conditions to make it pleasant for Two Buck Benny and his missus to lose their dough, don't be surprised if the New York outfits stop pushing Benny around and start giving him a break, too, to keep his business. . . . The Chicago breezes say the Cubs have about given up on Bill Nicholson and this will be his last year. . . . Advance ticket sale for both Michigan and Notre Dame grid seasons tops all records. . . . and if all you hear is true, both are loaded for Army this year, too. . . .

DIS-A AND DAT-A

Adam Walsh is going to try Kenny Washington out as Bob Waterfield's understudy in the Los Angeles Rams T-formation quarterback slot until he sees how Kenny's recently operated legs stand up. . . . Czech southpaw Jaroslav Drobný and French southpaw Marcel Bernard tangle for the French tennis championship.

Complete Pipe Line To Ohio:
The gasoline pipeline constructed by the Sun Oil company through this county last summer has been completed to Cleveland, Ohio, and gasoline and other oil products are being delivered through the line direct to Cleveland and other more easterly points from the company's refineries in Marcus Hook.

the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary and Lions' clubs, went on record unanimously at a joint meeting at the Blue Parrot tea room Monday evening, that an exact reproduction of the Lincoln memorial be procured if the cost is reasonable and the cost of the bronze statue is available.

Dr. Charles Moore, of Washington, D. C., was the guest of honor at the dinner meeting. Dr. Leo F.
Stock, of Washington, D. C., introduced Doctor Moore.

Marriages Revealed: Lloyd Glenn Minter, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. L.
Minter, East Middle street, and Miss Orean Hubbell, South Washington street, daughter of Curtis Hubbell, Newport, Arkansas, were married at the parsonage of St. Mary's Lutheran church, Silver Run, Tuesday evening, July 7, by the Rev. R. W.
Saltzger.

Mr. Minter is associated in business with his father, proprietor of Minter's store, Baltimore street.

Miss Evelyn Pauline Sowers, daughter of Arlie L. Sowers, Harrisburg, and Mrs. Carrie Tawney, Gettysburg, and William Ernest Knox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel D.
Knox, Steinwehr avenue extended, were married at the rectory of St.
Francis Xavier Catholic church
Tuesday evening, by the Rev. Father Mark E. Stock.

They were attended by D. D. Kendellhart, West Middle street, and Miss Mary Knox.

Mr. Knox is employed at D. D.
Kendellhart's cigar store, Chambersburg street.

attended the annual picnic at Arendtsville Union park Thursday afternoon.

Sharkey Held to Draw by Lighter Opponent in 15 Rounds: Ebbets
Field, Brooklyn, July 23 (AP)—Jack Sharkey, the erratic sailor man from Boston, adopted war-like measures a trifle too late Wednesday night and was held to a draw by his undersized but highly courageous opponent, Mickey Walker, in fifteen indecisive rounds of roughhouse battling.

Outfought for the first ten rounds by an opponent he figured to beat decisively, with every physical advantage in his favor, Sharkey was forced to put on a two-fisted drive in the last four rounds to get so much as an even break.

The outcome was distinctly an up-

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
BECAUSE IT'S HOME

I have never had any desire to live in a great house, expensively furnished, and so ornate as to attract the eyes of the envious. I have only wished for simplicity, comforting things about me, but most of all a beautiful room full of books—which I have earned and have, and which, when my time of retiring from this earth arrives, I may happily pass on to others.

I occasionally attend sales in the big city where I live. And I listen to spirited bids from the anxious, hoping the object that once graced a great mansion may finally become theirs. Such things do not stir me. They only interest me, and give my curiosity a smile. My unpretentious home, and the little island retreat where I spend my summers in beautiful Nova Scotia—a land still unspoiled by the greed of man —comprise the summit of my desires.

I now write at this summer haven, and in a small lodge that is in itself unique. The large, roomy part is where I work and write. A great open fireplace is the center attraction, and it is built of stones I gathered from the rocky shore of the lake. The walls are of hemlock bark, and offer a beautiful natural blend of blues and greys, against the high blue ceiling. Indian rugs are upon the floor, and I converted into a center light a fine ship wheel that once steered through many a calm and boisterous sea. An old ship's clock gives me the time of day. A brass porthole that I picked up at a junk shop adorns one of the walls.
This, too, I love—because it's home!

The pace of our birth is like a personal shrine, because we first saw the light of day there, and precious memories cluster about it. The crude cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born is revered by all lovers of greatness, because it was the early home of one of the most beloved of this earth. "Be it ever so humble," as John Howard Payne wrote, "there's no place like home."

To have a place one can call his home is the aim that should be in the mind of all, no matter where that home might be. The home is the stabilizer of every nation.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Wants."

Just Folks

QUATRAINS
Boy at the Window
A little dreamer staring out
And wondering what life's all about.

Watching the people come and go
And puzzled by what frets them so.

Rules for Success

A happy heart, a healthy mind;
Eyes wide to good, to evil blind;
Hands that will toil with willingness—

These are ingredients of success.

Other Ways

That two and two make four is proved.

That fact in every mind is grooved,
But more than one way there must be.

And four are made by one and three.

Butterflies

I think that butterflies were made
So fragile and so fair
That children wouldn't be afraid
To meet them anywhere.

their 100th anniversary with a three-day celebration starting Labor Day.

Academic, civic and religious events will commemorate the founding of the first Benedictine institution in America in 1846 by the Rt.
Rev. Boniface Wimmer.

The celebration will open Monday morning, September 2, with a Pontifical Mass of Thanksgiving celebrated by the Most Rev. Amleto G. Cicognani, Apostolic Delegate to the United States. The Most Rev.
Michael J. Ready, bishop of Columbus, Ohio, will preach the Centenary sermon.

A colorful procession, with abbots from each of the 21 Benedictine abbeys in America, will precede the mass. Bishops from many parts of the country also will take part, as well as more than 500 priests.
Governor Martin will speak at a banquet and civic celebration in the evening.

Baltimore Livestock

CATTLE—Grass-fat steers and cows predominated the cattle receipts at the close of the week. Receipts were slightly in excess over the same period a week ago. Local and big packer buyers bought the bulk of the day's receipts with outsiders taking a few loads of canner, cutter and common cows. Water-fills of the steers favored the selling side.

Slaughter steers sold fairly active and steady with earlier this week. In this division, two loads and a truck lot of top good grass-fat steers averaging from 1,000—1,100 pounds sold at $21 for the day's top. Several loads and lots of average and top good grassers, covering a wide range of weights, sold from $15.50—20.50. Medium and low good arrivals sold from $16.50—18 with a few lots of common lightweight grassers selling downward to $12.

Heifers were in meager supply, trading was fairly active and prices were about steady with former days this week. Low and average good grass-fat heifers sold from $15—17. Common and medium arrivals sold from $12.50—14.50.

Low trading was slow with most sales steady to weak with an instance here and there 25 cents lower. The bulk of the medium-grade beef cows sold from $12.50—14 with high-yielding individuals selling from $14.50—15 and an odd head or two springing to $16. Canner, cutter, cows making utility in the beef, sold from $12.50—12. Canners and cutters sold from $7.50—10, mostly $8 up.

Bull trading was slow with prices steady to 25 cents lower than earlier this week. Good beef bulls sold from $15—16. Good weighty sausage bulls sold from $13.50—14 with an odd head to $14.75. Light and medium weight arrivals sold from $10.50—13.

Stocker and feeder trade was draggy with a few sales steady with former days this week. There were a few loads and lots of medium to top-grade weighty Western and native feeder steers that sold from $15—17.

Compared with week ago: Average and top good slaughter steers, 50c.—$1 lower; common to low-good, $1.50 lower; heifers, 50c.—$1 lower; cows fairly $1 lower, in instances $1.50 lower on high and medium weight sausage bulls; stocker and feeders steady to weak.

CALVES—Vealers sold slow and steady with Wednesday. Outlet was rather narrow with local slaughters indicating ample supplies of veal on hand. Mixed lots of good and choice 120—220-pound vealers sold from $17 to mainly $18. Common and medium grades sold from $12—16.50 and culls sold downward to $8. Receipts of weighty slaughter calves were too meager to make a market.

Compared with week ago: Vealers $2 lower; weighty slaughter calves unchanged. HOGS—Early swine trading was retarded by higher asking prices but as buyer and seller got together trade became active and all barrows, gilts and sows sold 50 higher than Wednesday. The practical top advance to $22.50. Good and choice barrows and gilts scaling from 150—250 pounds sold at $22.50; 250—300 pounds, $21.75; 300 pounds and up sold at $20.75. Good and choice sows at $19.25.

The above prices are based on grain-fed hogs.

Compared with week ago: Barrows and gilts, $1.25—1.75 higher, most advance on 250—300-pound weights; sows, $1.25 higher. SHEEP—Spring lambs sold very slow and steady with Wednesday. Outlet and not price was the main factor in the slowness of trading as most buyers indicated ample supplies of lamb in their coolers. The practical top remained at $18. Mixed lots of good and choice 70—100 pound spring lambs sold from $17.50—18. Mixed lots of medium and good arrivals sold from $14.50—17. Common lambs sold around $13 with a few culls downward to $10. Slaughter ewes all slow and steady. Good and choice wooled slaughter ewes sold from $9 down with comparable shorn ewes selling from $8 down.

Compared with week ago: Spring lambs and slaughter ewes, $2 lower.

LEGAL NOTICES

NOTICE Estate of Emma Dushman Hartel, late of Borough of Gettysburg, Adams County, Pennsylvania, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that letters testamentary upon the estate of the above decedent have been granted unto the undersigned by the Register of Wills of Adams County, Pennsylvania; all persons having claims or demands against the estate of said decedent are requested to make known the same and all persons indebted to the said decedent are requested and required to make payment without delay unto the undersigned.

DAVID A. TAWNEY, Executor, 118 West Middle Street, Gettysburg, Pa. Or, William L. Meale, Attorney, Gettysburg, Pa.

GRANT OF LETTERS IN RE: Estate of George W. Herring, late of Freedom Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania.

Letters of Administration on the estate of George W. Herring, late of Freedom Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania, having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to the said estate are requested to make payment, and those having claims against it to present the same without delay to JAMES M. HERRING, Administrator, Littlestown, Penna. Or to his attorneys, Bullett & Bullett, Attorneys at Law, First National Bank Bldg., Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

fic criticism provisions of the bill which he said will make "clothing prices in particular x x x difficult to hold at reasonable levels."

OPA officials estimated privately that a new formula set up for pricing cotton and woolen textiles may force clothing costs up as much as 15 to 20 per cent.

The President also expressed his displeasure with an amendment which shifts authority over food prices from OPA to the secretary of agriculture.

Inflation Fight Tougher On this point he said "good government requires that a law be administered consistently in all fields where it is applicable. Consistency of policy is difficult to achieve when, as in the present bill, Congress has provided for division of responsibility."

Mr. Truman said that in general the bill "makes the task of staying off inflation even more difficult" than in the past, and that as a result "there are some things which consumers will have to do without, or pay higher ceilings for them than they should" he added:

"It is particularly unfortunate that many of these increases result from concessions to special interest pressure groups, rather than from the adoption of principles designed to expand production within a stable price structure."

On one provision of the new law—the Crawford amendment—OPA officials reversed up their previous estimates that it would raise the cost of popular priced cars by an average of at least $75. They said it appears now the boost may be at least $100.

Rent Situation The amendment requires OPA to restore auto dealers' prewar profit margins.

On the subject of rents, Ivan D. Carson, OPA rent administrator, announced last night that "both individual and blanket rental increases granted through state or local action no longer apply and tenants should refuse to pay more than former OPA ceilings."

Carson said, however, that landlords who collected increases during the period when there was no Federal rent law "will not be required by OPA to refund the excessive amounts."

The rent chief said OPA will not recognize any uncompleted eviction proceeding by landlords who did not follow OPA regulations. He added, however, that tenants actually evicted under local law while there was no Federal control "cannot regain possession."

SAYS PARENTS SHOULD TEACH KIDDIES SAFETY

Pittsburgh, July 26 (AP)—Coroner William D. McClelland, noting that Allegheny county has had 13 drownings and 21 deaths in automobile accidents in the past six weeks, made a plea today for citizens to "wake up to the fact their carelessness is an invitation to death."

"There is too little second thought, too much hurry, and too much just don't-give-a-darn," he declared.

The coroner said he was particularly concerned with the number of drowning victims, most of whom have been youngsters under 15 years of age.

Old Safety Rules "The children of this day are not being taught safety by their parents," he said, adding:

"They should at least be taught the old, sane rules — stay out of water for an hour after eating, stay out of deep water if you can't swim, don't horse around with kids who can swim if you can't, because you're going to get ducked and you may drown."

"If your child is in a crowd," Dr. McClelland advised parents, "have him pair off with someone so they can watch each other. Keep him out of canoes and rowboats if he can't swim, and if you won't do that, at least teach him not to take chances when in a boat."

"There have been a lot of sneers at life-saving instructions and artificial respiration practice but there have been a lot of lives saved by it."

7,743 Illegitimates Born In Penna. In '45

Harrisburg, July 26 (AP)—The State Bureau of Vital Statistics reported today there were 7,743 illegitimate births in Pennsylvania in 1945.

"The number was up a little from the 7,637 reported in 1944 but then the total for all births was greater," a bureau spokesman said.

The average for 1940-44, including the war years, was approximately 6,419 illegitimate births annually with very little increase from year to year.

"Contrary to what many persons think, the number rose only slightly during the war," the spokesman commented.

Someone in every swimming party should have the know-how."

MILLION DOLLAR '46 FAIR SEASON

Harrisburg, July 26 (AP)—Another $1,000,000 season—the second on record—is anticipated this year for Pennsylvania's county and community fairs.

The fair season opens next Monday in Washington and Clearfield counties, state Agriculture Secretary Miles Horst said today in predicting the statewide attendance will surpass the 1,609,000 rolled up in 1945.

Receipts last year went over the million dollar mark for the first time.

Eighty-seven other county and community fairs were listed by the department for this year, with most of them coming in September.

"Each of the 69 county and community fairs is eligible for state aid in the payment of premiums for agricultural prizes except a few that are operating for the first or second year," Horst said. "The number indicates a return to prewar conditions."

Outstanding farm displays can be expected, he added, because of the excellence of current crops. Many new kinds of farm machinery also will be on display "even though some may have to be borrowed from farmers who acquired them only recently," he declared.

RUSSIA HOLDS FAST TO VETO ON ATOM PROBE

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
 (AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The full extent of the damage done by the under-water atomic bomb in Bikini lagoon hasn't yet been determined because death-dealing radio-activity still hangs about, but there's plenty to confirm that we have to do with a giant of awful might.

Howard Blakeslee, Associated Press science writer aboard the USS Appalachian at the scene, says that this latest bomb was "probably the most powerful man-made force ever loosed—perhaps even stronger than the bomb that razed most of Nagasaki last August." In any event, we know that atomic energy is the greatest force on which puny man ever has succeeded in putting his halter. It is capable of unlimited destruction or can be made to work wonders.

The method of developing and controlling this new-found might is the world's number one problem of the moment. And yet even as the experts were detonating the under-water bomb at Bikini, over here in

New York the highly explosive question of atomic control was being used for a football at the conference of the U. N. Atomic Energy commission. One snickers at the thought.

Liberal U. S. Offer
 The proposal of the United States for global supervision of atomic energy once more was up for consideration. This is the wholly altruistic offer of Uncle Sam to destroy his store of atomic bombs and share his atomic secrets for peaceful use if the world will set up adequate safeguards to make sure this terrible weapon never again can be used as an instrument of war.

As you will recall, this involves surrender of the veto power by the five major nations on all matters pertaining to atomic development. It provides for the creation of an International Atomic Development Authority with absolute power over atomic raw materials and production. It calls for the adoption of an international law "with teeth," providing for severe punishment of violators, and endowing the International Atomic Development Authority with the right of investigation in any country.

Reds Want Veto
 It has been flatly rejected by Russia.

The Moscow plan, proposing to keep the whole control within the United Nations machinery, clings tenaciously to the veto power on atomic matters.

Observers note that under this arrangement the UN control could not institute an investigation within the borders of any nation possessing the veto power.

In short, Russia apparently isn't willing to lessen her sovereignty to the extent of granting the atomic control agency the blanket right of investigation within the Soviet Union. She demands the privilege of vetoing investigation.

So the question of atomic control is about back where it started.

Littlestown Prepared To Give Big Ovation To Sons And Daughters Of World War II At "Welcome Home" Parade, Celebration Tomorrow

Tomorrow is Littlestown's big day. It will be a big day for the several hundred men and women of the borough and its adjacent territory who served their country in the various arms of the service during World War II, and it will be a big day for the hundreds of parents, brothers and sisters, uncles and aunts and just friends, who will officially welcome the boys and girls home again from the wars tomorrow.

It will be a replica, so far as is possible, in the parade at least, of the big V-J celebration of last August. But at that time the war with Japan was just over. Most of the men and women were still in the service. Now they are back, and Littlestown intends to extend itself beyond any previous efforts to show that it is glad they are back.

Amidst all the celebrating at the return of its heroes, Littlestown will not, however, forget those who failed to return. For war exacted its price and Littlestown was not skipped in the assessment. Thirteen of its sons went forth and paid with their lives for freedom and democracy. The borough will pause in its celebration to honor the memory of these men, and their names are enrolled in a place of honor on the official programs for the day. These programs will be distributed to the veterans as mementoes of the day.

Those from Littlestown and vicinity who died during World War II are: Vernon E. Bauerline, Lowell F. Clark, Robert J. Collins, Albert D. Crabbs, Jr., Archie H. Feser, Burley Ketterman, Ernest W. Mayers, David C. Mehring, Clarence R. Wisotzky, Richard M. Palmer, Vernon R. Sentz, Glenn A. Snyder and Samuel E. Spangler.

Sponsored By Legion

Tomorrow's home-coming celebration is sponsored by the John W. Ocker Post No. 321, American Legion, with the cooperation of practically every other organization, industry and business in the borough.

Services will be held in all the churches of Littlestown in the morning, beginning at 10 o'clock. Special music is being arranged and the pastors will deliver special sermons on the peace theme, the spirit of democracy, and a welcome to the members of their congregations and all others who served in the armed forces. Special tribute will be paid also to the men who lost their lives, with a tribute to their families.

Factories will be closed all day tomorrow and most of the stores will be closed during the parade.

Memorial services at the playground are scheduled at 12:45 p. m. and the parade will follow, forming at the playground and moving shortly after 1 o'clock.

The line of march will be from Maple avenue to Newark street, to North Queen street, thence through the square and down South Queen street to Boyer street, and Boyer street to M street, from M street to West King street, through the square again to East King street to Maple street to the playground, where the parade will disband.

573 On Honor Roll

There are 573 names on the Littlestown honor roll, and the committee in charge wants all of these veterans who can to march in the parade, and in uniform.

The names listed on this honor roll are published elsewhere in The Gettysburg Times today.

Last minute details for the parade and the other events on tomorrow's program were decided upon at a committee meeting July 22. Numerous previous meetings of the committees had been held as the general pattern emerged into its final form.

Clarence J. Krichen, Sr., general chairman of the celebration committee.

P. Emory Weaver, chairman of the program and advertising committee.

Among the local industries which have entered floats in the parade are the Windsor Shoe company; Blue Ridge Rubber company; B. F. Shriver canning company; Littleton Shoe company; Strouse-Baer Clothing company; Keystone Cabinet company; Prince street; Jones-Littlestown clothing company and Zerling's hardware.

This list does not include the floats entered from the rural areas. There will be several bands in the line of march. Homes and business places were decorated with flags and bunting for the celebration.

The parade is expected to be over in time for a county league baseball game, scheduled for 3 p. m. At 5 o'clock the veterans will be the guests of the town at a banquet to be served in St. Aloysius church hall.

Band Concert and Dance

A band concert and a dance for the veterans are planned as part of the evening entertainment. The Blue and Gray band of Gettysburg will play at the intersection of Charles and South Queen streets from 7 to 8:30 p. m. The dance will be held in St. Aloysius church hall from 8:30 to 11:30 p. m., with music to be furnished by Johnny Baker's orchestra of Hanover.

Clarence J. Krichen, Sr., is general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements, and J. Robert Sell is secretary. Sub-committees, and their chairmen, are: churches, the Rev. David S. Kammerer; parade, LeRoy M. Wintrod; entertainment, Francis J. Will; supper, Karl P. Bankert; orchestra, bands and dance, Paul R. Snyder; finance, Clarence L. Schwartz; programs and advertising, P. Emory Weaver.

CHURCH PLANS PICNIC AUG. 11

Littlestown is not only going "all out" in making this welcome home celebration the biggest event that the borough has ever seen, but it is expecting to share this celebration with thousands of visitors from other parts of Adams county, from York county and from nearby Maryland.

Victory Parade Last Year

In many respects, the day will resemble an "Old Home Week" observance, with many former residents and friends of the community returning for the day's activities, to greet old friends and to take part in the occasion.

Littlestown is well-equipped to play host to the thousands it expects to entertain tomorrow. The second largest borough in Adams county, it boasts a hospitable attitude and a friendly welcome for all who come within its borders.

Its restaurants and stores are modern and well-equipped and all of its business places prepared to handle the vast throngs expected for the day.

The "Welcome Home" celebration recalls the community victory celebration held in Littlestown on August 29, 1945, a short time after the surrender of Japan. The town entertained a crowd variously estimated at between 7,000 and 10,000, the largest in its history up to that time.

Albert William Schott was born in Baltimore 52 years ago. When he was 29 years old he was an expert shoe cutter with a bright future in the leather-cutting industry before him. Today he is a retired restaurateur, having achieved enviable success in the restaurant business over a period of 23 years. He is also a successful farmer and cattle and poultry raiser.

Albert Schott, more familiarly known as "Schottie" to his many friends, was one of the four best shoe cutters in Hanover less than 25 years ago. He liked his work, his fellow workers and his employers. He was conservatively successful, financially, and apparently satisfied that he would continue as a shoe-cutter the rest of his working years.

Invests Life's Saving

One day he decided to enter business for himself. He said that he had convinced himself that he "could make a go of it" in any business that he decided to enter. He discussed the matter with his wife who casually supported his ambition with "if you think you can, I'm satisfied."

Mr. Schott purchased the small Masenheimer restaurant, in Littlestown, from Paul D. Masenheimer. It was really a combination restaurant and grocery business on South Queen street, in Littlestown, in the former Crouse building. Mr. Schott invested his life's savings of $900 in the business and on February 23, 1923, opened Schottie's Restaurant.

The Schotts, husband and wife, cleaned out the Masenheimer restaurant-grocery. They literally gave the small room a house-cleaning. They discarded old show cases and a root bear keg that was being used as a soda fountain. They tore out old shelves and scrubbed the place from top to bottom.

$15 Day's Business

With a few items of food, principally one can of crab meat, the full extent of the Schotts' finances, the couple, with one employee, Clinton Shanefelter, opened their restaurant. A small coal oil stove was their main piece of kitchen equipment. They served soups, sandwiches, candy and ice cream. Despite

SCHOTTIE'S RESTAURANT

Bernard F. Schott, Proprietor

LITTLESTOWN, PA.

Open Until 2 A. M. Daily—Closed Sundays

Shottie's
heart-breaking predictions of many old time Littlestown residents that they would "never make it go" the Schotts did what they thought was an "amazing business" that first day... total receipts $15.
Encouraged by this "startling" patronage, the Schotts worked diligently, from early morning until late at night, expanding eventually to 25c platter dinners. This new trend of restaurant service and menu variety brought increased trade and profits.
Furthering his ambition to build his new business Schott launched the then unheard of 50c chicken dinner on Sundays only. This consisted of roast chicken with filling, candied sweet potatoes, mashed potatoes, soup, two vegetables, celery and olives and coffee, tea or milk with dessert.

"On Their Way"
Now the Schotties were on their way.
From out of Littlestown came new patrons who had heard of this new restaurant. It was a place, they were told, where one could get a wide variety of food, including sea foods, which had not even reached any degree of popularity in this vicinity.
The restaurant room was too small so the Schotts pushed the rear wall back, enlarged the kitchen and installed new equipment. Business boomed. More customers were arriving every week, from Taneytown, Emmitsburg, Hanover, Gettysburg and elsewhere. The fame of Schott's sea foods spread rapidly.
One can of crab meat the first day swelled to 25 and 50 and then 100. A recent peak day required 165 cans of crab meat to supply the demands of Schott's customers.
Gives Wife Credit
"Mrs. Schott always carried the heaviest load of the business effort," her husband declared. "She baked, cooked and served. We never had a chef. When Mrs. Schott didn't do the cooking, I did."
"We kept our eyes and ears open for new things to serve. We traveled many miles to other restaurants and hotel dining rooms to find out new things. If the chefs would not reveal their culinary tricks we fashioned our own to give our customers the newest and best. We stressed quality and quantity. A satisfied customer is our best advertisement has always been our motto," Schott continued.
Schott's famous $2 sea-food platter was the peak in restaurant features in these parts. Schott's served on this special, clam broth or turtle soup, crab cakes, frog legs, soft shell crabs, Shad roe, shrimp, scallops, fish, fried clams, French fried potatoes, toast, cold slaw, lettuce, tomatoes, tartar sauce, beverage and dessert. The tartar sauce is Schott's own concoction.
Oysters Were Mainstay
The first Schott restaurant was 30 feet deep and 20 feet wide. Two upper floors were not used. Today the restaurant is 250 feet deep, 20 feet wide and three stories high. It includes 14 sleeping rooms and a banquet hall with a seating capacity for 100 diners.
In proportion, as the business and building expanded, "so did" every other item. Oysters were a mainstay. There was a time when the Schotts were enthusiastic when they sold a gallon of oysters, stewed, fried or padded, a day. This one item has expanded, on numerous occasions, to more than 25 gallons per day.

Roast and fried chicken dinners were another specialty. The Schotts killed, cleaned, dressed and prepared their own chickens. To this has been added, when available, turkeys, ducks and geese.
Catering was another innovation that Schott introduced in this area. His peak performance was catering, serving a four-course dinner, to 250 diners on a farm several miles from the restaurant. All the food was prepared in Schott's kitchen, carried to the farm and served hot.
Kept Accurate Records
The Schotts, in addition to being diligent and painstaking workers, kept accurate records of every transaction from the day they opened their restaurant to the present time. They even recorded the weather each day which might denote some fluctuation in their business.
The Schotts also credit their children for much of their success. "From the time they were able to work they dug in and helped us out, every one of them," chorused both Mr. and Mrs. Schott.
There were Bernard, who has since purchased the business; Mrs. Paul V. (Angela) Long, now of Mechanicsburg; and Rhea, now Mrs. William Gingrow, of Littlestown. Albert W. Schott, 12, died two years ago.
Son Buys Business
Bernard Francis Schott, (who was 29 years old last April 7) a son, purchased the business from his father December 1, 1945.

He attended grade schools in Littlestown, St. Joseph's Academy, McSherrystown, and Valley Forge Military Academy and Gettysburg college.
Last March 4 he married Miss Nadine Emma Bange, daughter of Mrs. Hattie Bange, Hanover. They reside in an apartment on the second floor of the restaurant.
In addition to himself and Mrs. Schott, who also assists in the restaurant, these employees work in the business: Maurice Zurgable, Raymond Hipp, Jean Lickliter, George Ernst, Mary Anna Catalano, Lillie Topper, Ernest Beard and others during emergency periods.
Retire to Farm
Mr. and Mrs. Schott have retired to devote most of their time to their farm, several miles from Littlestown. There they raise cattle and poultry and most of the vegetables used in the restaurant.

Happily Schott concluded: "Bernard will carry on in the same old manner, in the same old way as we, his father and mother, did. I know he'll be just as successful, if not more so. If he ever needs me, I'm ready to help out."
When the Schotts observed their 16th anniversary in business they published an elaborate menu. On the back fly-leaf was printed a statement from "The Management" prepared by one of the daughters. They cherish the following literary effort:
Trials and Tribulations
"Sixteen years ago the wife and I started out alone in the restaurant business. It took quite a bit of courage, due to the fact that the town was so small and so many others had tried to make a success of this type of business before us. But determined to reach our goal, we went through endless trials and tribulations.
"We made a lot of mistakes, but profited by these mistakes. At this point we are not experts, but as far as home-cooking is concerned (Please Turn to Page 4)

Our Littlestown Vets Did Their Job

and

WHAT A JOB!

For them the fighting's over and now they want to settle down in civilian life as quickly as possible.

We who welcome them now realize that this land of plenty needs plenty of the type of men who brought us our greatest Victories.

Working side by side with our returning veterans we cannot fail to achieve the good things of life that only peace can bring.

CHURCHES WILL HOLD SPECIAL RITES SAT.

Special services in connection with the Homecoming celebration for veterans of Littlestown and vicinity will be held in various churches of Littlestown Saturday morning at 10 a. m.

The congregations of Christ Reformed, St. James' Reformed, St. Luke's Reformed, Centenary Methodist, and Redeemer's Reformed churches will unite in a memorial service Saturday morning in Redeemer's Reformed church. The Rev. John C. Brumbach, pastor of Christ Reformed church, will lead in the Dedication Introit and give the Scripture lesson. The Rev. Robert H. Sheehan, pastor of Centenary Methodist church, will lead in the responsive psalm and give the pastoral prayer.

The Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church, will preach the sermon and conduct a short memorial service. He will deliver the sermon he gave to the men of the 3rd Battalion, 165th Infantry, during the Battle of Makin. He was a former army chaplain. The Rev. Howard S. Fox, pastor of Trinity Reformed church, Gettys-we are willing to vouch that our food is up to par.

"When we came to Littlestown our place of business consisted of a small kitchen, dining room and a small bar which was in the front of the building. We served mostly short orders.

"Since this very scant beginning our place of business has been enlarged three-fold, along with the trade which has increased even more.

"A very modern and up-to-date refrigeration plant has been installed. All modern equipment has taken the place of the antiquated instruments used before.

"Our employe staff has been doubled and we have tried to train burg, and president of Mercersburg synod, will also participate in the service.

The Rev. Mr. Brumbach urges his Christ Church parishioners to attend, although it was not announced last Sunday.

The Rev. Kenneth D. James will conduct a service Saturday at 10 a. m. in St. John's Lutheran church; and the Rev. David S. Kammerer in St. Paul's Lutheran church.

Mass will be said in St. Aloysius' Catholic church at 8 a. m. Saturday by the pastor, the Rev. John D. Weber.

them in the best possible manner.

"The food we serve is home-made. It receives the best of seasoning and is most appetizing to the customer.

"Our home-baked pies have received vast recognition. As far as sea-food, that will speak for itself, for we have built up an extensive trade in this line. We are more than careful about our selection of sea-food, we carry nothing but the best and we can guarantee you it is always fresh.

"If you ask for a brand or drink we do not have we will tell you so. We do not substitute. Lots of people enjoy a good drink—so why not try one of our cocktails before dinner. A delightful custom that stimulates the appetite.

"Remember, we know a little more about the restaurant business than when we first started—but we still have a lot to learn. At all times we are open for suggestions and constructive criticisms, so that we may still have a better restaurant for you to enjoy in the future."

Church Plans

day school picnic and supper will be held in the church grove Saturday afternoon and evening, August 3. Music will be furnished by the P.O.S. of A. Band, Hanover.

The Loyalty Sunday school class of St. Paul's Lutheran church will hold its annual picnic for members and their families at Sheffer's park, Monday, July 29, at 6:30 p. m. In case of rain, it will be held in the social room of the church.

News Briefs

Stanley B. Stover has on display this week-end in the window of his electrical store at 12 East King street the pictures of the thirteen men from Littlestown and vicinity who lost their lives in World War II. Ferns and cut flowers, in addition to the pictures, make an attractive display.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ziegler, and Mr. and Mrs. Seawell, Millville, Calif., were recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Loretta Ziegler.

The Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity held its annual picnic for members and their families Wednesday afternoon and evening in Christ church grove and pavilion. There were games for the children and a box lunch was enjoyed by those present. Mrs. Harry T. Harner was chairman of the committee in charge, and Mrs. Orville Sentz was co-chairman.

Clarence L. Schwartz, postmaster, has announced that the Littlestown post office will be closed Saturday afternoon from 1:30 p. m. to 3:30 p. m., due to the Homecoming parade. Most business places will also be closed at that time.

At breeding time, the male woodcock performs a strange aerial dance.

COUNCIL NAMES W.C. MACKLEY AS TOWN AUDITOR

The Littlestown borough council at its July 23 meeting named Wilbur C. Mackley as borough auditor, to succeed Harry J. Koontz, who has moved from Littlestown. It was also directed that the secretary advise for a middle-aged man to take over the duties of street commissioner, because of the illness of the present commissioner, which makes him unable to perform his duties.

Appointment of a member to the Littlestown Borough Authority board was tabled. The term of W. H. Dern expired July 9 and Roger J. Keefer, borough secretary, informed the council that Mr. Dern would not accept reappointment due to his health.

The secretary informed council that John S. Teeter and sons had been instructed to clear the trees from the lot owned by Littlestown Hardware and Foundry company, which is intended for use as a free parking lot. Chief of Police Leon Gage and Secretary Keefer asked whether a light or lights were to be installed on the parking lot. The matter was discussed and action deferred until the lot has been placed in condition for use.

Ask Tree Trimming

The street committee reported that numerous complaints had been received regarding the condition of Prince street extended, due to the mud and the settling of the ground within the ditch recently opened for laying the six-inch water main from Newark street to the Bonneauville road. It was stated that stone has been ordered and as soon as a grader or bulldozer is available the street will be repaired.

The street committee again brought before the council the necessity of property holders trimming the shade trees overhanging sidewalks and streets. The secretary was directed to notify by advertisement, all property holders to trim their trees. In cases where owners fail to comply, the borough will do the work and charge the cost against the property, plus an additional 20 per cent.

Chief of Police Gage informed council that Paul M. Bowman had requested a driveway entrance to his vacant lot in the rear of his apartment and store on North Queen street, the lot to be used for parking vehicles. After debating the question, council deferred action until a later date when the meters have been installed and the engineer supervising their installation can advise on the width of the driveway.

Secretary Keefer reported the following receipts: from Burgess Charles R. Mehrling, total permit fees, $6; fines for illegal parking, $13; from Chief Gage: health officer, $1 for eating and drinking establishment license for Frederick W. Renner, 108-110 South Queen street; from Howard G. Blocher, fines and permits, $50.

Building and construction activities are continuing at a fairly high level in Littlestown according to the building permits issued at the meeting of council.

E. J. Altoff, 104 East King street received permission to paint a 2½ story dwelling; Bernie Shriner, 120 Lumber street, to paint a dwelling at 156 Lumber street; Claude A. Snyder, 65 Crouse park, to excavate, repair and construct a sidewalk and an additional walk to the rear of his dwelling and to construct a one story frame, asbestos brick siding addition to the pantry to the rear of his home; Elmer C. Krise, 365 East King street, to paint and repair a two story frame double dwelling; Mrs. Bertha Long, 152 East King street, to repair a sidewalk and to paint and repair a 2½ story frame dwelling; Curvin H. Feaser, Littlestown R. 1, to paint two frame dwellings on Lumber street; Walter M. Yingling, 125 Lumber street, to cement a cellar and Luther A. Spangler, Gettysburg R. 1 to paint or repair a roof of a two story frame and brick building for W. H. Dern and Malvin N. Dern at 30-32 and 34 South Queen street.

Order Bills Paid

Water permits were issued to Thomas C. McSherry, West King street, to install service connections in a dwelling at 201 West King street; to Miss Irene N. Shoemaker, 58 North Queen street, to install

THE CHARTER OF LIBERTY

Fundamental human desires never change. The right to "Life, Liberty, and the pursuit of Happiness" is a principle for which men have always striven and have been ready to give their lives.

It has often been said that if this country ever departs from the system of government which has made it great, the forces of disintegration will not come from without—but from within.

Liberty is something ever to be safeguarded. The men of vision who penned the historic declaration gave us freedom. But they also gave us a sacred trust.

SWIMMER DROWNS

Williamsport, Pa., July 26 (AP)—Alex Stills, 22, drowned in the Susquehanna river yesterday, the coroner reported. He was seized by cramps while swimming.

The average time required for the cinchona tree to reach maximum yield of quinine is 10 years.

Domestic fowl are believed to be descendants of the wild jungle fowl of the Malay peninsula.

Someone To Believe In

By Helen R. Woodward

Chapter 9
On the afternoon of Greer's debut at the Melody she was obliged to acknowledge an entirely unexpected nervousness. She had gone early in the morning to a beauty salon—not the one she had patronized in the old days, but to a tiny new one operated by a girl who had not been long in town. Katherine Lester was earnest and efficient and her desire to please almost oppressive. As she worked with Greer's burnt-honey curls she was ecstatic in her admiration.

"Why not wear it high on your head for a change, Miss Lawrence. You have such a lovely, regal figure you'll look like a queen!"

Greer laughed nervously. "If a new hair-do will give me any added strength or poise, let's have it! I—I have a difficult—er—engagement for tonight!"

Miss Lester smiled in delight. "He'll think you're more beautiful than ever when I have finished with you!"

Her head ached from the heat of the dryer when she reached home. She thought she would just have a cup of tea and spend the afternoon resting, but Isobel met her at the door.

"Greer—you look wonderful, darling! Oh, I love your hair that way! Are you excited about tonight?"

Excited, voluble, Isobel was almost beside herself. Greer guessed correctly that the girl had been spending long hours alone and the chance to talk to a sympathetic listener was too much for her. Isobel chattered unceasingly while Greer, with a sigh at the loss of her coveted quietness, set about preparing sandwiches and tea. Isobel spread the cloth on the card table.

"Guess what happened, Greer? I never was so excited in my life! My daddy came to the apartment this morning."

Greer stopped what she was doing, genuinely interested now. "Stephen Redmon! Where on earth did he come from—and why?"

"He was in the city—he wanted to see me—and oh, Greer, he's a darling!"

Greer nodded. "He always was! Why he and your mother couldn't make a go of it, I could never understand! I remember when I was just a little chicken, he'd take me riding on a big black horse—they lived out on the edge of town then, and you were a babe in arms! I loved him very much and cried for a week after he went away! Is he going to be in the city for a while? I'd like very much to see him!"

Isobel's cheeks were flushed with happiness. "Yes—he's an architect, you know—a pretty good one too. He drew the plans for the new club house Rocky Alverson practically financed! He'll be here the whole time they're building it!" A shadow crossed her face. "Oh, Greer, you do think Mother will let me see him often?"

"I don't see why not!" But Greer was not at all sure. She remembered the bitterness and recriminations that had preceded Harriet's divorce from Stephen, and there was, of course, not any way to judge how Harriet would feel about her former husband's return.

Later in the afternoon Buzzy Barton dropped in to wish Greer well and to assure her that she had nothing to fear from an audience that already knew and loved her.

"Nevertheless I'm shaking in my shoes!" Greer laughed. "You're sweet, Buzzy, to come by to give me a shot in the arm!" She presented him to Isobel, still flushed and happy and looking unusually pretty. Buzzy grinned and said, "Hello, youngster!" and Greer could see Isobel bridling instantly. After he had gone she asked suspiciously, "Is he falling in love with you, Greer?"

Greer laughed heartily. "Heavens, no! Where did you get that idea!" "It's funny he took the trouble to come here and wish you luck when he could have just as easily done it tonight!"

"I declare, Isobel, you're getting as suspicious of people as your mother is!"

"Is mother coming to hear you sing tonight?"

Greer nodded. "Yes, Rocky said she had reserved a table early in the week. It's kind of her to back me up!"

"I want to come, too, Greer! I'd love to hear you sing!"

Greer kissed her cheek. "I know, darling—and I'd love to know you were out there pulling for me. But you know Harriet would never permit you to go to a night club."

Isobel sighed. "Of course not, I might as well still be that 'babe in arms' you spoke about, as far as mother is concerned. Well, I'll be sending you all sorts of thought messages of encouragement!"

After Isobel had gone Greer began to dress slowly. She had already decided—thankful that she had plenty of clothes to last a while—that she would wear a flowing ivory satin that molded her slim body in beauty and gave her a portion of the confidence she so sorely needed. There was no denying her increasing nervousness as she dressed. So much seemed to depend on this night's performance. Rocky had continued to assure her that what he was doing in giving her a job had no personal note in it; but she wondered why he should have chosen her when he might have had a professional singer. To be sure, her innate charm, aided by Buzzy's coaching, would carry her through, and the quality of her voice was quite suited to the songs that had been chosen for her. But nevertheless she was filled with quivering doubts.

Before she strapped on her red satin slippers, Jeff Mansfield called. "I've been out of town on an assignment," he said, "or I would have called sooner. But—this is your big night, isn't it?"

"Yes," she laughed. "And I'm scared to death!"

"Would you feel better if an old friend called and escorted you out to the Melody Club?"

"Oh, Jeff—if you only would!"

"Expect me, then!"

"I should be in love with him," she reflected as she turned away from the phone. "He's definitely the nicest man I know!"
